

HOW THE MARCH WAS WRITTEN

The Way John Phillip Sousa Came to Write the March For His Famous Light Opera "El Captain."

When Sousa was writing "El Captain," one of the most successful comic operas of many years, he studiously avoided any semblance of march time in the music, presumably for the very reason that the public would naturally anticipate a march of some sort in a Sousa opera, and that he would demonstrate that he was not only not over-inclined to march time but really avoided it save when he saw fit to give to the field of band music a special contribution. Therefore the opera was born and christened devoid of march time. It has a more or less war-like atmosphere, and there was every opportunity for a real stirring martial ensemble climax, but Sousa used the chance with other treatment equally effective.

Time came for staging the opera and the producers were enthusiastic. At the last rehearsal one of them suggested that a certain martial scene should be sung in march time. The suggestion at once created an impression throughout the company as well as among the producers, and the latter set to find Sousa, who was living at the Grenobles at the time.

"Look here, Mr. Sousa," said the spokesman, "the finale of the second act of 'El Captain' offers a magnificent opportunity for a grand march, and we have come to ask you to write one especially to fit the spot."

"Nonsense," replied Sousa, "that is the very thing I avoided doing."

"Ah, but you do wrong! You throw away a grand chance! Please do it!"

For more than a week the famous composer was obdurate, but so much pressure was brought to bear that at last he consented to write a special march for the opera, and not only that but he put a band in the scene and that scene has never failed to arouse an audience to high pitch. This is how one of Sousa's greatest marches came to be written.

"El Captain" will appear at the Traders Grand opera house Tuesday evening, September 27.

Cure for Sick Headache.

We had a letter the other day from a lady in the town of Boulder, Colo., that should be of interest to people who are troubled with spells of sick headache. She writes that she had these spells about four times a week, was obliged to go to bed and remain there from 8 to 10 hours each time. Had been troubled this way for several years, and the attacks became more frequent. Doctors done her no good, she tried dieting, and everybody said it was from her stomach. Seeing an advertisement of Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills, which said they cure sick headache by removing the cause, she decided to try once more, and sent 50c for two boxes. She said she had taken the last pill more than 4 months ago, has not had a sick spell of any kind for more than 5 months. Druggists sell these pills for 25c per box. It only takes one for a dose, they cure sick headache every time. Stone & Mercer.

So Deceptive

Many Clarksburg People Fail to Realize the Seriousness.

Backache is so deceptive. It comes and goes—keeps you guessing. Learn the cause—then cure it. Nine times out of ten it comes from the kidneys.

That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it. Cure every kidney ill from backache to diabetes.

Here's a Clarksburg case to prove it. Mrs. S. N. McCluskey, wife of S. N. McCluskey, carpenter, of 144 Mulberry street, says: "For some time Mr. McCluskey complained of pain in his back and other symptoms of kidney complaint. Often the pain was torturing to sleep or lift and if he even remained long in one position dull aching, very difficult to describe and harder to endure, ensued. As time passed each succeeding attack was more prolonged and more pronounced until they continued for a week or ten days at a time, rendering Mr. McCluskey unable to go about. Learning about Doan's Kidney Pills, he went to Wells & Haymaker's drug store for a box and tried them. This remedy acted directly upon the kidneys. You can tell that from the action and condition of the kidney secretions. When they are rendered normal backache ceases, at least, this is the result for my husband's experience with the remedy."

For sale by all druggists. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

A good liniment and one that is fast becoming a favorite if not a household necessity is Chamberlain's Pain Balm. By applying it promptly to a cut, bruise or burn, it allays the pain and causes the injury to heal in about one-third the time usually required, and as it is an antiseptic it prevents any danger of blood poisoning.
